

the humanitarian engineer

a documentary by Sheena Ong

We've all heard about Doctors Without Borders, and the legal profession is well-known for its pro bono work.

But what part can – and do – engineers play in humanitarian efforts?

Come on a journey to explore what it means to be a humanitarian engineer.

EXPLORE THE HUMANITARIAN ENGINEER

1st Screening in the Midlands, UK

TIME 18.00-20.00 (screening starts 18.20)
DATE 24th November 2015
VENUE Engineering & Computing - Coventry Uni.
COST Free including pizza, donations to EWB
MORE INFO + TIX Book your place
<http://tinyurl.com/CovUni-EWBfilm>

Featuring interviews and personal stories.
The Humanitarian Engineer is a celebration of engineering, its diversity and its power to enrich the human condition.